

ASTM A537 Carbon Steel Class 2 Sheets & Plates

Chhajed Steel & Alloys are aggressively venturing into exporting of our products to various countries. ASTM A537 Class 2 has a higher yield and tensile strength which is used in the fabrication of steel boilers and pressurized vessels. The standard specification for pressure vessel plates, heat-treated, carbon-manganese-silicon steel used in the applications of fusion welded pressure vessels and structures. ASTM A537 Class 1 Carbon Steel Plate is normalized steel that is heat-treated and as a consequence, it displays greater yield and tensile strength compared to the standard ASTM A516 grades. They are arranged to be useful in pressure vessel applications, it is ideal for use in pressurized service both in boilers and pressure vessels. A537 cl2 Heavy plate is a material that is widely used in the fabrication of boilers and pressure vessels, such as petroleum, chemical, gas industry, and power plants.

ASTM A537 Class 2 Pressure Vessel Steel Plate includes the alloying of carbon, manganese, and silicon which is heat-treated by using quenched and tempered method which provides a residual strength. SA 537 class 1 material offers amazing resistivity to rack and crevice corrosion. It has no chances of negligence or leakages. It offers minimum elongation with a maximum tendency to bear the pressure. SA 537 cl1 boiler steel plates are helpful in many industries such as the oil & gas industry, aerospace industry, refineries industry, fertilizer industry, petrochemical industry, paper industry, and many more. They are applicable in various general purposes such as pressure vessels, dished ends, heat exchangers, columns, filters, pipelines, valves, storage tankers.
